VOLUME 9—NUMBER 28 33 | CANAL POINT, PALM BEACH COUNTY, FLORIDA, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1932 | $2.00 PER YEAR

THINK OF THIS

The salary of a major in the United States Army, in active service, ranges from $3,000 per year for less than five years' service to $4,000 for over twenty years' service.

Plans for Okeechobee flood control—channels and levees—are made by officers of the United States Army.

George B. Hills, consulting engineer employed by the board of commissioners of Okeechobee Flood Control District, is paid $8,500 a year.

A man who has been sampling the sugar company's cane says the best cane is on the south side of the canal, the north-side cane being pithy and salty, he says, shameless in confessing that he is making the sugar company furnish him with his chewing cane.

A squatter on some lake bottom land notices that wild tomatoes are thriving, resisting insects and other pests, and he wants to know why Professor Speer doesn't have his class in agriculture start some breeding work, crossing cultivated tomatoes with the wild. Mr. Sheffield of the U. S. cane breeding station had some tomato seed work under way a few years ago but a hurricane blew it up. Mr. Dahlberg went to the home of the wild man of Borneo a few years ago and got some wild sugar cane to cross with tame cane. Aren't our wild tomatoes wild enough?

The commercial job printer at Winter Park, Fla., formerly of Tama, Iowa, who essayed the role of defender to George B. Hills, got out his Winter Park Herald on time last week but he did not accept the invitation to say who George B. splits his $8,500 a year salary with.

The supreme court has reversed decisions in circuit courts and has held Harry S. Kelsey, H. C. Rorick and P. P. Pruden not liable in suits brought against them by the Central Farmers Trust Company, successor trustees to the Farmers Bank & Trust Company of West Palm Beach. Mr. Rorick is chairman of the Florida Everglades Drainage District Bondholders' Protective Committee. He is also a trustee of the Everglades Club. Many of Palm Beach's fat is which his firm loaned a million and a half dollars in 1928. The Toledo, Ohio, crowd put a lot of money into Palm Beach county. The hard time that is hanging in getting it back is an experience not conducive to further investments in the near future.

The Republican campaign manager is not using the flood control appropriations as an argument for their ticket. They probably know that the 34-foot elevation is not popular with residents. Likewise the Democrats are not using George B. Hills' connection with the Flood Control Board as an argument for giving support to the Democratic ticket. It is noticed that Hills is not a candidate for any elective office; his strong point is in getting appointed to something.

If news about the sugar company is so important to West Palm Beach daily papers, how does it happen that they do not print the news about the lay-off of many employes? Here is a news item for county seat papers—another prosperity item: Big investors in the sugar company hope the Volstead act will be so amended that they can make rum instead of sugar.

The carpet-bag managers of Everglades drainage district used to say that "Ninety per cent of the problems of the district will be solved by the levee and the flood control work." That showed how little they knew. It shows how little they know. The Everglades will have more problems, and harder ones, when the levee is completed than it ever had. Consulting Engineer Hills has not made any contribution to the solution of problems—while the district contributed salary to him he contributed problems to the district. He has made a hard problem for his employers, also.

Politicians and collegiates have dictated Everglades affairs for a long time. Some day a man will be appointed—just one man, not a committee or a commission—to make a study of the region; he will be given a year and a fair salary to make a report. One of the best reports ever made on the Everglades was the Buckingham report, the product of one man. The worst fiasco was the Elliot-Martin Everglades Board of Review, which was a whitewashing report, compiled by "eminent engineers." Eminent engineers are the bunk.

It was President Harding who used the term "best minds." Any executive who calls in "best minds" confesses he has a poor mind. After the failure of Harding's "best minds" and the failures of other's "best minds," a fair conclusion is that a good executive might very well rely on what Dave Sholtz calls "we common people."

HER CAR IN CANAL, SHE HOME, SAFE

Headlights In Water Lead To Attempts At Rescue

Mrs. Nell Smith, county welfare worker, driving alone Thursday evening on Conners highway, lost control of her car when she applied the brakes on a rough spot in the road three miles east of Canal Point, climbed out of the car when it went into the canal, hitchhiked to West Palm Beach and from there answered a telephone call put in from Canal Point to report that she was drowned.

Mrs. Smith reported that except for some bruises she was all right.

Two men whose homes are in Lakeland, driving toward Canal Point yesterday evening, saw a light in the canal and discovered it to be the headlights of an automobile submerged except for a portion of the cab. Knowing Grady Boynton they stopped in Canal Point and made report. Dr. W. C. Young and "Doc" James went to the point and floating in the cab they found a scrap of paper on which was Mrs. Smith's name.

Returning to Miller's drug store they encountered Miss Lowell, county nurse, who put in the call to Mrs. Smith's home and got her assurance that she was alive.

SAVED BY NAIL CATCHING PANTS

There was no service at the Church of the Nazarene in Pahokee Sunday morning because the pastor, T. C. Grigsby, was out with a party of members of the church looking for his brother, H. H. Grigsby, who was known the night before to be in a light skiff, without oars or anchor, on Lake Okeechobee during a storm. While they were searching for him Grigsby's skiff drifted ashore near Lakeport on the opposite side of the lake, where he got dry clothing and a car in which to return to Pahokee, arriving home before the rescue party did.

His life was saved during the storm on the lake by the circumstance that when a wave dashed against the hull of the boat and he was pitched overboard, his trousers caught on a nail, checking the speed of his fall and detailing the boat and enabling him to reach from the water to the side of the boat, barely touching the rail with two fingers. Getting back into the boat he floated to land.

With a board as an oar and a minnow bucket as an anchor, Grigsby had gone into the lake Saturday afternoon to fish. When he was overdue to return home his brother, Rev. T. C. Grigsby, saw him far out on the lake; another view, later, showed him more distant from shore, and finally out of sight as the wind raised.

Lewis Friend and Henry Lovett and another boy set out to the rescue in a boat with a kicker in the A pull-boat. The kicker went ahead and the boys in the first rescue party were in a predicament when the second relief party came to their aid and brought them ashore.

A third searching party set out at 10 o'clock Saturday night in an automobile to go to the west side of the lake—Rev. Grigsby, C. M. Todd, James Mizell and Albert Gaby. They left word at Clewiell, and Moore Haven and then went on to Lakeport. In the meantime the lone mariner had started home and he got back before the rescue party did, like when Jack Tipp of Canal Point got lost in the Big Cypress.

Hyacinths In Bloom; Is It Early or Late?

Water hyacinths in canals and road ditches are in bloom in all the country on the eastern, southern and western sides of Lake Okeechobee.

This newspaper has never before recorded the date of blooming of water hyacinths and the persons to whom inquiry has been made cannot say whether the flowering is earlier or later than usual. The record is made now in order that it can be referred to next season for a comparison.

A royal poinciana tree on Canal Point-Pahokee road was in second bloom last month while pods were forming on the poincianas at Miami canal.

Pumps Run To Make Land Dry For Cane

Elevation 13.6 feet at the bridge is the ground water level that the United States Sugar Company wants for its cane at Bare Beach, says George Alberts of South Bay, the South Florida conservancy district pumpman.

Mr. Alberts was called to duty at the Bare Beach station Sunday and he said on Monday that he expected to run the pumps night and day for three days and then in daytime only for about 10 days.

The elevation of the lake on Monday at that point was 13.8 feet, two-tenths of an inch higher than the level that was wanted for land inside the levee.

Beggars Should Beg In Their Own Towns

There is no excuse for tramps or beggars coming into the Everglades.

In every community in the United States there is relief work of the same kind that is being given in Canal Point, Pahokee, Belle Glade and South Bay; the tramps and beggars who come in here could stay at home and be taken care of as well as our home folks unemployed are cared for. They have no excuse for being here.

Governor Carlton's statements about prosperity in the Everglades were misinterpreted by the West Palm Beach daily paper that "played up" an interview with him.

The governor has now issued a formal statement warning unemployed to stay out of Florida. Labor unions have issued statements to their members to stay out of Florida until the supply of home labor is absorbed.

Contractors on the government jobs should not bring in men and use them for a short time and then fire them and leave the discharged men burdens on the charity of the community.

Tramps who appeal for food should be referred to the deputy sheriff, in order that they can be investigated.

Jobs should be reserved for home folks.

Nassaus' Struck But Lost Strike

Nassau negroes on Kraemer island struck Monday morning for 20 cents a hamper for bean picking and lost the strike. In consequence of the strike they may lose their happy homes and be deported to the island where they are "British subjects."

When Ben Dopcus and Lloyd Aspey went over to pick beans on Kraemer Monday morning a group of Saus assembled but they refused to go to work unless they were assured of payment at the rate of 20 cents a hamper. Their demand was refused.

Mr. Dopcus and Mr. Aspey each took a truck and went to Chosen and Belle Glade and got a supply of native labor. Fifteen cents a hamper was the price that was paid and there were plenty of pickers at that price.

L. L. Davis of Pahokee is one of the growers who has notified the Saus on his island place to vacate or accept the prevailing rate of wages.

Flood Control Board

Senator A. W. Young of Vero Beach, secretary of Okeechobee flood control district, reported yesterday at a meeting of the board in Tallahassee that on September 30 the district had collected $103,- 000 of its $463,697.05 tax assessments in Broward, Collier, Dade, Glades, Monroe, Okeechobee, Palm Beach and St. Lucie counties, which form the district.

The session was taken up largely with discussion of rights of way for the government levees around Lake Okeechobee. The secretary said the government to date has acquired a right-of-way through 252 parcels of land and that the district has procured 149 of these, 92 of them coming from trustees of the internal improvement fund for state-owned lands.

The board authorized condemnation proceedings where the required rights-of-way cannot be secured otherwise. It went on record as opposing outright purchase of rights-of-way.

The War Department reported several weeks ago a schedule on which contracts would be let for the completion of the lake control project. The report was made to Palm Beach county relief committees, and George B. Hills, consulting engineer of the district, said that so far as he knew that schedule would be adhered to.

HIGH MERIT IN TALKS ON MUCK SOILS

Farmers Program Deserved Better Attendance

Program of the Farmers Day meeting Wednesday at Everglades Experiment Station, two miles south of Belle Glade, was too rich in detailed information to be capable of transcription in a newspaper article, and this character of the meeting makes it regretable that the attendance of under 200 was not greater, in order that more persons share the benefit.

The program was rendered as printed in this paper last week; it was adhered to in a manner that shows the punctuality of the College of Agriculture staff in keeping appointments, and the creditable manner in which County Agent M. T. Mounts and Dr. R. V. Allison conducted the program earned them the right to deserve and expect better attendance next year.

Persons who attended the meeting had opportunity for conversations with the speakers as well as hearing what was said in the addresses, and in the fields at the Stations were physical illustrations of many of the propositions that were discussed.

Home Economics

Mrs. Louise Rawle of South Bay was elected president of the Palm Beach County Home Demonstration Council Wednesday at the annual meeting held in the new building in the Belle Glade club. Mrs. J. C. Mock of Pahokee was elected vice president; Mrs. M. Houze, of Military Trail, secretary and Mrs. G. Mize of West Gate, treasurer.

The greeting followed a day of sight-seeing over the Glades, with a tour through the experiment station, and lunch on the experiment station grounds.

This was the first meeting of the Belle Glade club in its new club house and a kitchen shower was given by those attending.

Reports of the recent state meeting of demonstration clubs at Gainesville were given by Mrs. J. N. Morris, Belle Glade, Mrs. Harry Burns of Southern Boulevard Pines, Mrs. L. Crick of West Palm Beach and Mrs. Nathan Williamson of Greenacres.

Plans for the year's work of clubs over the county were outlined and discussed. The Belle Glade club showed the best club record for the last year and was awarded the prize as the most outstanding club.

Mrs. George Tedder of Belle Glade; Mrs. Dagne of the experiment station, and Mrs. H. C. Willits of South Bay, were hostesses at the meeting.

Clubs included in the council and represented at the meeting were: Greenacres, West Gate, Military Trail, West Palm Beach, Southern Boulevard Pines, Belle Glade, South Bay and Pahokee. Nearly 100 women attended the meeting.

Relief Furnished From R.F.C. Fund

To make the F. R. C. relief fund extend to as many persons as possible, work is being given by sub committees under L. C. Betzner of Belle Glade and L. L. Stuckey of Pahokee throughout the upper glades on the basis of 7 hours a day three days a week on the basis of $1.50 a day to white men and $1 a day to colored men. Foremen at $2.45 a day.

Crews started to work at several places Monday and worked through to Wednesday. New crews were organized to work Thursday, today and tomorrow. No man will be put on for a second time until work has been given for three days to each of the men on the lists of registrants approved by the county council at West Palm Beach.

At Canal Point there were 10 white men and 10 colored men in the first crew and the first work was clearing right of way for a sidewalk to be built from the school house to the depot and the clearing of the school grounds.

At Pahokee the school grounds were cleared and the crew is now working on Bacom Point road. Similar work is being done at Belle Glade and South Bay.

Drink His Beans If He Can't Sell Them

An Everglades grower threatens to drink his beans if he can't sell them. It came about this way:

They were talking about the Nebraska farmers who avoided the purchase of coal as fuel by burning their surplus corn, and it was agreed it wasn't practicable to burn beans and tomatoes because our climate makes artificial heating unnecessary. It was recalled that an excellent wine is made from tomatoes, so the disposal of a tomato surplus is solved. But about beans?

"Well," he said, "I've made pretty good home brew out of most everything else and I'm going to see if I can't make it out of beans."

BEANS

From five bags of seed planted in section 9, L. L. Stuckey of Pahokee picked 1,873 hampers of beans and loaded three cars Saturday. He does not know the exact size of the field in which the ten bushels of seed were planted but judges it was between 12 and 14 acres. The cars were loaded from his packing house on the lake front in front of his residence. As he was in West Palm Beach to attend a meeting of the county council on unemployment relief he was not here to sell the beans Saturday, so he had them billed to himself at Petersburg, Va., for diversion. All of the cars were of the Bountiful variety.

William Franklin, colored farmer at Lake Harbor, loaded a car of 458 hampers of Bountiful beans at that place Saturday. W. H. Tucker of Canal Point, broker, handled the sale of the car, which went to H. L. Douglass of Belle Glade at 75 cents a hamper f. o. b. Lake Harbor.

The conductor on the Atlantic Coast Line train at Lake Harbor said on Monday that the first car of beans from the A. C. L. station that place rolled Saturday and that was the only car out up to that time.

Arthur Wells, farming at Bean City, about half way between South Bay and Miami canal, said on Monday that he expected to pick three cars of beans the following Saturday, which would be tomorrow.

Among the shippers from Belle Glade in the past week are Cook brothers, who loaded a car of beans that were grown on the custard apple ridge near H. H. Hart's, south of Chosen.

Paul Johns was loading two cars of beans at Belle Glade Monday. J. H. Livingston, who handled tomatoes at Belle Glade last season, was handling the Johns beans. The crop was made on land on the south side of Hillsboro canal.

Ben Dopcus and Lloyd Aspey loaded beans at Belle Glade Monday. The beans were grown on the L. G. Freeman land on Big Kraemer island. They got about 600 hampers from three bags of seed. Ben said they put in the early crop because the land is so rich they were afraid it would be too dry to make beans in this winter.

Richard Morris of Lake Harbor reports a sale of 156 hampers of snap beans on the Miami market at $1 per hamper, a net return over picking, transportation and marketing charges of 50 cents per hamper.

W. R. Shackford expects to pick ten cars of beans next week, of which two will come from section 2 and eight from section 11, near Sand Cut siding, north of Canal Point. The section 11 field is 32½ measured acres. Mr. Shackford picked his first beans of the season Monday and Tuesday, around 500 hampers, which he sold in the field, some at 45 cents a hamper and some at 55 cents. His yields are indicated in the fact that he got 433 hampers from a field in section 11 on which he planted two bushels of seed.

DAILY SERVICE FOR BEAN CARS

Daily trains are now operated on the Florida East Coast railroad in the Lake Okeechobee region, the Sunday train having been restored this week. This gives a seven-day mail service as well as providing accommodation for growers who load car-lot beans.

Superintendent C. L. Beals, Division Superintendent A. J. Pooser and District Agent C. R. Philips visited the territory the latter part of last week and the order for restoration of the Sunday train was a result of their inspection.

The frequent visits made to this region by the F. E. C. railroad officials keeps them well informed on conditions and enables them to meet the requirements of the shippers.

ROTARIANS HAVE SOME BAD SPELLS

Cane Breeder Is Last Man Down At Spelling Bee

The word that broke up the spelling bee at the meeting yesterday of Pahokee Rotary Club was "phenomenon." President Bert Lapp had appointed Joe Kahn captain of one team and P. E. Foster captain of the other team, and they called sides. Joe's team was made up of Dr. W. C. Young, Thurmond Knight, E. G. Kilpatrick, Will Jernigan, V. C. Denton and Lennie Stuckey. On the other side P. E. called Joe Tolle, Howard Sharp, Abe Dobrow, Bert Lapp, Dick Gibbens and Johnny Thomas. As schoolmistress for the day, the president appointed Miss Geraldine Howell, the pianist, to give out the words.

The first word given out was "license."

"Licence," Joe Tolle spelled out. "Sit down," said teacher.

Dr. Young retired on "mysterious," and Abe put one too many d's in "privilege." Thurmond muffed "changeable," omitting the e, and pretty soon V. C. retired to the side-lines, too, not being able to get straightened out on "parallel," nor could E. G., Johnny or Lennie. At one stage of the game the score was tied at 3 and 3.

Bert flopped on "victuals," and Will got by on such a tricky word as "deceitful" but was called out on the doubtful double t in "benefitted." Howard got a wrong vowel in the last syllable of "phenomenon," and Dick Gibbens was left to use a t instead of an s in "declension." Then school was out.

SHOLTZ

"I am still opposed to convict labor, and I promise you that when I am governor the state prison farm will not compete with you farmers in the sale of its products," David Sholtz, Democratic nominee for governor, said in speeches delivered in the upper Glades Saturday.

Accompanied by Mayor E. B. Donnell of West Palm Beach, state committeeman, and John Prince, chairman of the county committee, and other supporters, Mr. Sholtz arrived in Canal Point at noon and after meeting voters and making his address he went to Pahokee and thence to Belle Glade and South Bay.

In the course of his talks Mr. Sholtz said:

"It is high time that the common people take the government into their own hands by orderly and legal means. It is gratifying too and indicative of the times, government that the women of the state and nation are organized.

"After spending the summer studying systems used to reduce governmental costs by former Governor Byrd in Virginia and Governor Russell in Georgia, I am more than ever convinced that these economies are not only possible but necessary for the welfare of the state. It is time for the government to come down to earth, consolidate bureaus, eliminate duplication and cut costs rather than look for new avenues of taxation to meet a steadily increasing budget.

"I have made a thorough study of the school situation and whileperings of the trusts to the contrary, the expenditure of one mill will give free school books to the children in our schools.

"I want the teachers of our state paid a fair living wage and I want them to be paid that wage when it is due. I want the wholehearted co-operation of Parent-Teacher Associations.

"But the frills and fancies in connection with our present school system are breaking our backs and the time has come for relief.

"I want no road, corporation or public utilities company contributed a cent either directly or indirectly to my campaign. I am here because I was placed here by the common people and not by any special interests and I want to renew my pledge that it is the common people I will serve."

TOMATOES AND SQUASH

A good looking field is that on the west side of the road coming out of Clewiston, where there are tomatoes and squash. John K. Mowry of Seminole Farms is said to be the grower.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR DONN

District Governor To Visit Rotary

James Donn of Miami, district governor of Florida, his district being the entire state, will visit Pahokee Rotary Club at the special meeting to be held Tuesday evening at the Bean Festival pavilion. He will receive the reports of the officers and address them on the purposes of the organization and the means of realizing the objects.

The district governor of Rotary in private life is president of the Exotic Gardens, Inc., florists' nurserymen, and landscape designers, of Miami. The Exotic Gardens have been in operation for the past seventeen years and a good portion of the landscape development of Miami Beach, Palm Beach and Miami is the result of their activity.

He is a past president of the State Florists' Association, and at the present time is deputy of the supreme council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry for the southern jurisdiction in south Florida, with four consistories in his jurisdiction. Located at Tampa, Lake Worth, Miami and Key West.

Mr. Donn has been very active in civic affairs, having served as director of the Miami Chamber of Commerce, director of the Boy Scout council, and is now a member of the Rate and Traffic Board of the city of Miami.

For seven years Mr. Donn served as a member of the Board of Directors of the Rotary Club of Miami, and in 1931 was elected as president of the Rotary Club of Miami. It was during his administration that the International Service Committee broadened its activities by giving a scholarship to one boy from Peru to the University of Miami, thus adding another link to the friendly relations of the two countries.

Young Tornado

A young tornado hit Canal Point Sunday night—a young tornado or a played-out hurricane. For not more than 60 seconds wind whirled and blew down a poinciana tree on Pahokee road and ripped tar paper off of old buildings and tore branches from trees. Lodged cane in section 4 showed the path of the tornado extended to near the railroad crossing, but there was no sign that it extended as far as the north toll gate.

MASONIC LODGE TO ERECT HALL

East Beach Masonic lodge will erect a building 25x60 feet on its lot in Pahokee, Mack Barrett trustee, announced this week. The building will be frame stucco, two stories, and the cost will be within $3,000. M. F. George has been employed as foreman. Piling is now on the ground and it may be driven as soon as use of a pile driver is obtained but erection of the frame will not start until Mr. George finishes the Miller building in Canal Point for which he has the contract.

The lodge will hold its meetings on the second floor and the first floor store room will be for rent.

DRAINAGE TAXES MUST BE PAID

Without touching on the merits of the drainage tax suit, the Florida supreme court yesterday authorized tax collectors and other county officials to proceed with the collection of state and county taxes November 1, and drainage taxes that are not Everglades drainage district. This action was taken by modifying an order of the court issued several weeks ago in a drainage district case, which directed the commissioners of Everglades district to make up their tax roll. A hearing on the latter subject is yet to be held, the commissioners saying they have no money to pay the cost of making up the drainage tax roll.

MORE CARS BEANS AND OUT EARLIER

8,500 Hampers Loaded Yesterday, 26 Cars In 7 Days

CARS BEANS LAST NIGHT
South Bay, 1 car.
Belle Glade, 1 car.
Runyon, 4 cars.
Cardwell, 3 cars.
Pelican Lake, 4 cars.
Canal Point, 3 cars.
Sand Cut, 1 car.
Total, 17 cars, equivalent of 8,500 hampers.

Shipments of beans from the upper Glades are earlier and heavier than last year. To this date Canal Point has rolled 5 cars, Pelican Lake 5, Cardwell 2 and Runyon 14, a total of 26, whereas to this date last season these stations had rolled 15 cars. Detailed day by day report is yet to come from Belle Glade and other stations.

The first car of the season having rolled from Runyon station October 10, the next shipments out from the region were also from that station, 2 cars on the 13th and 1 car on the 14th.

Railroad records consolidated the Saturday and Sunday movement, October 15 and 16 on which the car loadings of beans were: Canal Point 3, Pelican Lake 1, Cardwell 1, Runyon 1 cars.

The movement on the 17th (Monday) was 1 car from Pelican Lake and 3 cars from Runyon. No movement is shown on railroad records for the 18th. On the 19th (Wednesday) the loadings were: Canal Point 2 cars, Pelican Lake 3, Cardwell 1, Runyon 2.

In the same period shipments not reported in detail were made from Belle Glade and other stations.

Cooking School At Legion's Pavilion

A cooking school will be conducted at the American Legion's pavilion Tuesday and Wednesday, October 25 and 26. The school is sponsored by the Florida Power & Light Company and will be a demonstration of the use of electrically operated devices intended to economize time in households and produce better results than by other methods.

The hours of the school on Tuesday will be from 2 to 4; the school will be conducted on the same hours Wednesday afternoon and in addition there will be demonstrations from 7:30 to 9 o'clock Wednesday evening.

As the purpose of the demonstration is to promote the sale of household appliances that use electric current, everyone is invited to attend.

DAMS AND DITCHES

Ditches are being cut in fields and dams are being put in the borrow ditch along state road No. 25 between South Bay and Clewiston. This is what the drainage engineers would call "conservation of water," to make something high-sounding out of a commonplace process. In other words, farmers are doing what they ought to do; they are taking care of field drainage themselves instead of asking Tallahassee to do it.

Best Time To Plant, In Twin of the Moon

Most bean growers plant when they have the ground prepared and have fertilizer and seed but there are some Everglades growers who plant in the "twin of the moon."

"Twin of the moon" isn't just the same as the dark of the moon—it is deeper stuff, for it has to do with the twelve signs of the zodiac. In their relation to the human anatomy the arms are represented by Gemini and the feet by Pisces, or fishes. Germini and Pisces are the twins of the zodiac, or "twins of the moon." Evidently the practice of selecting planting dates with reference to the signs of the zodiac is general, for the patent medicine almanacs show the signs under the heading "Moon's constellation."

A grower who intended to plant the latter part of last week under the auspices of Pisces couldn't get around to it to plant then, so he waited until Thursday of this week and planted under the sign of Germini.

BRING BACK GOOD TIMES

The Socialists and the Communists, disciples of Karl Marx, declare that profit is morally wrong and economically unsound, and they would do away with profit on merchandise, interest on money and rent on land. Have you thought of it that we have a form of communism in this country, inasmuch as merchants and farmers are not making profits out of their business, banks are having to cut down on their loans, and landlords can't collect rents. It seems we have in the United States the worst features of communism with none of the benefits that are claimed to go with that system of industry and government.

In communist Russia there is work for all, it is said, but it is forced labor. In the United States labor is being provided for destitute people but at wages that are no more than enough to keep them alive, and the low wages to the destitute is fixing a low wage for other forms of labor. Like merchants and farmers, working people aren't getting a profit. And that, probably, is what is the matter with the United States—profit has been abolished for the greater number of people.

If the abolishing of profit is the cause of our distress, it must be that the restoration of profit would restore prosperity.

Business men know that business cannot be carried on without profit, and farmers are learning that unless business makes a profit business will halt or stop, and when business gets bad the condition of the farmer is made worse because business men's employes haven't wages with which to buy farm products.

The manis for lower prices is holding back business. The merchant who tries to buy merchandise and service at the lowest possible price in order to sell cheaper than his competitor is cutting his own threat. His demands for lower prices forces the manufacturers to cut their labor costs, and when labor gets less it buys less. The farmer who insists on lower prices probably will get it, but unhappily the cut that is made probably will be in what he gets for labor.

A disposition on the part of farmers and business men to allow everyone a fair profit will do a good deal to bring back good times.

CAN THE GLADES FEED ITSELF ?

This newspaper seeks to be a thought-provoking newspaper, it wants and tries to call forth thought, to move its readers to recollections and comparisons, to rouse them to mental activities.

To that end it starts arguments, it brings up questions it would excite the emotions of its readers and stimulate them into challenge. The paper may be wrong in its statements and its views and conclusions—that is not important, for the important thing is to have the readers disagree with it and search their minds for facts to combat its errors when it is in the wrong. Often the teacher learns while instructing.

And now The Everglades News submits this question: "Can the Everglades feed itself ?"

For many years the real estate speculators and the professional boosters and "the congenital optimists" have declared that "The Everglades can feed the world" without giving a bit of thought to the question, "Can the Everglades feed itself ?"

If the Everglades can feed itself, it had better set itself to do it.

Money is scarce and hard to get, and probably will be scarcer.

A good argument can be made that the Everglades cannot feed itself, for it is not doing it.

On the other hand, there was a time when the residents did feed themselves, or practically so, for the early settlers were gardeners, most of them are just bean growers, and hundreds of them are dependent on charity—dependent on charity in a land of which it is said, "It can feed the world !"

The Everglades News does not challenge the statement that "The Everglades can feed the world," but it understands that by the claim is more is meant than that the Everglades can supply the United States with a great many beans, with even more beans than it is now producing. But the Everglades has competition in bean growing, and it has the obstacle of high freight rates and it isn't selling all the beans it can produce. But The Everglades News does ask, "Can the Everglades feed itself ?" and that is a very practical question now when millions of persons are being fed by charity. We can't all be fed by charity—some part of the people must feed themselves.

Probably the Everglades can produce much more of the necessary foodstuffs than is being produced. Corn and peanuts are staple food products, and Irish potatoes and sweet potatoes, and these can be grown here; and they should be in larger amount.

The Everglades News warns its readers, who are farmers, that government agencies are likely to shut of food supplies to farm communities, the charity food being diverted to city dwellers. When the Arkansas cotton growers were raiding grocery stores because the cotton growers would not grow anything but cotton, the whole country saw the craziness of that situation.

PRINTING THE NAMES

The Pensacola daily newspapers print the names of persons convicted of driving motor vehicles while drunk, and the Miami Herald approves of the printing of names. The Tampa Morning Tribune says this has been its practice for years. It will also be the practice of The Everglades News. Anyone in the field of this newspaper who is convicted of driving a car while drunk will be accorded the same consideration as any other offender.

Most police officers and judges drink whiskey and some of them get drunk and some of them drive their cars while drunk. The police officers usually know who made and sold the liquor that the drunken driver got drunk on, and it is a bit embarrassing for a police officer to arrest and a judge to convict a fellow drinker.

FARM NOTES

Co-Op's Small Volume

About half of the cooperative associations organized in Florida since 1889 have failed, says Dr. M. A. Brooker, associate agricultural economist. It would be interesting if it could be known how much hard-earned money was lost by the members. Most of the managers of the defunct co-op's gave small volume of business as the reason for the failure. Forty-two other reasons were also given.

Easter Lily and Gladiolus

While the men are engaged with beans and other vegetables, the women and children of the upper Glades might well interest themselves more in flowers and shrubs as sources of revenue. There is a foundation for real progress: the Home Demonstration Clubs, the F. F. F. boys and girls' clubs are starting points, and in Professor Speer and J. O. Henry there are experts to advise freely all who are interested. If the school authorities would divert part of the time and energy that go into foot ball and basket ball and dramatics into interest in revenue-producing activities there would be less loss of self respect in asking for federal loans and Red Cross flour.

Mangoes Don't Bear

Mrs. Phil Y. Cason of Indiantown and her mother, Mrs. Bixler, astounded me by telling me that mangoes don't bear in the Indiantown-Jupiter section. It had seemed there was an opportunity to develop groves of Haden mangoes in that section. There are mango trees of the turpentine varieties in that region and they serve well for shade and decoration. If I owned land in that region I'd have the State College of Agriculture and the Plant Board and everybody else of that sort looking into the matter and finding out what's the matter.

Coffee Weed A Host

A Florida grower sent a package of coffee weeds to G. F. Weber, plant pathologist at Gainesville and said a disease carried by the weed spread to her beans, squash, mustard and other vegetables. Mr. Weber replied that the coffee weed were diseased with powdery mildew. Mr. Weber ought to know what he is talking about, and if he does this is just another evidence that the control of disease-infested weeds is about as important as the control of Lake Okeechobee's floods.

Crotalaria Seed Poisonous

A. L. Shealy, animal husbandryman at the station, says crotalaria seed are poisonous to chickens and he does not know of any medical treatment to overcome the effect. There are cover crops suitable for the muck lands that make good chicken feed.

"UNLOADED" RIFLE KILLS

Jimmie,4 years old, and Margaret, 2 years old, children of E. G. Williams at Newhall near Moore Haven, were playing and the boy had a 22-calibre rifle that was supposed to be unloaded. "Look out, I'll shoot you," the boy said, and the report of the rifle was followed by the death of little Margaret.

MORE LOCAL ICE

To aid in supplying ice for the refrigeration of cars carrying beans, the Pahokee plant of the Florida Power & Light Company this week increased its production. The new production is shipped to the company's storage at Okeechobee, where the cars get their first icing.

COMMUNITY GOSSIP

The Everglades News ought to hold back the use of its green color paper to St. Patrick's Day, the 17th of March, we are told. But although we were early, Jess Elliott is ahead of us considerably—his notary public commission is set to expire March 17, 1936.

H. L. Speer had more fadishes than he knew what to do with. He had his colored men plant a few 10-cent packages of garden seed on his land and cared for on their time, which furnished table supplies and left a surplus for sale. If all farmers would have their colored people do this in the summer and early fall it would ease over the hard times.

Not many hosiery salesmen have been around since those signs were put up "Customers welcome—walk in; hosiery salesmen stay out."

Base ball and diamond ball and foot ball may be great sports, but the bean growing game soon will push the other sports off the boards.

Farmers ought to encourage the planting of trees, so the trees can take up ground that might otherwise be planted to crops. Too much stuff is produced, but the owners of raw land want to get their idle acres into use. Tell the land owners to plant tung oil trees—people can't eat tung oil.

A good thing about starting bean shipments is that the first night train will be put back on and we can get a Sunday morning mail at Canal Point.

If persons who are opposed to the 34-foot elevation levee will leave their names and addresses at this newspaper office an organization can be effected to make a protest. The fool thing can be stopped if 25 per cent of the people here will join a fight against it.

A slip and dock could not be maintained at Pahokee because the northwest winds filled in the channel. The government engineers have put the "navigable channel" on the outside of the levee instead of between the levee and the mainland, and that channel cannot be kept open any more than the Pahokee slip could.

It is supposed to be a navigable channel but where on earth could a boat land passengers or freight? No provision is made for docks or getting docks alongside the channel. Nobody who knows Lake Okeechobee expects the canal to do anybody any good. It may not be too late to get the thing done right.

An Everglades woman says: "I notice that in some of his newspaper advertisements Mr. Howey, the candidate, shows himself smoking a cigar. When he visited South Bay he displayed a pipe. I suppose that next thing he will be smoking cigarettes so as to catch the women vote."

The world's series base ball parties were grand successes in the Everglades. Just like when a hurricane was advertised to come in between Miami and Fort Lauderdale and make straight for the south end of Lake Okeechobee, preparations were made for it by the hurricane fans. The hurricane fans assembled at the appointed places and when they were seated comfortably the reports on the hurricane were started. We didn't divide the hurricane reports up into innings but we had the equivalent of score cards, for we had maps that showed the probable and improbable routes of the storm.

Pete Braley says sandspurs grow in the muck, this answering the question asked a few weeks ago. Jack Winne, on Torry island, had said that sandspurs grow in the muck if it is good muck, implying that if sandspurs didn't grow on the muck land it was because it was poor muck. So Pete says there is good muck north of Canal Point, too. He says he pulls the stalk up every once in a while and then the next thing he notices is that it is there again. He's going to use a posthole digger to get the roots out. Bob Baker threatens to pull up a handful of sandspurs and bring them in to prove that the stuff does grow in the muck. The south end of the lake country hasn't reported.

Other towns in the lake region needn't be afraid of Canal Point as a competitor—not just now, anyway, for instead of Canal Point getting together it is getting apart, not spreading out, just separating, breaking up. When Miller's drug store moves down toward West Palm Beach and with the post office gone up toward Okeechobee, the real estate boosters at Sand Cut Siding and Twenty-Mile Bend can say things are coming their way.

Mayor and Mrs. J. Denham Bird of Okeechobee have a fine avocado tree in the yard of their residence from which they have this season already picked 300 fine avocados and there is at least that many more on the tree.

WHAT PEOPLE SAY

L. A. Maryes, station agent, Lake Harbor: "Growers tell me the shipments of beans from this station of the Florida East Coast railroad will be double as much as they were from here last season."

J. G. Watts: "I believe there is need for low-priced lots in Belle Glade, so people can have their own homes instead of having to pay the high rents. My father has two subdivisions here, on both sides of the canal, and we have put the price of lots so low that it supplies the need."

Rev. R. E. Stars, relief worker: "I was surprised to read in the Palm Beach Post an article that the Belle Glade people in East Beach didn't know what the depression was. I turned to my records and found the names of over 650 people, men, women and children, black and white, who don't know one week where the victuals are coming from for next week. Such articles are wrong. Dozens of families of poor people are coming in with no place to live, camping out, and they say they came because they read of good times in the Everglades."

ABOUT PEOPLE

H. J. Bryant, long identified with Everglades land sales, who has lived in England for several years, writes to direct that the address for his paper be changed from Coton Manor, Guilsborough, Northampton, to Lake Worth, which indicates he intends to be in Florida this winter. He is a brother of F. E. Bryant of Palm Beach. H. J. Bryant and associates were announced recently as having taken an option on a tract of land in Okeechobee county. Test plots of sugar cane are being planted on the Okeechobee property.

By reason of the fact that his name is Wilburn Cogdell Young, the initials of Dr. Young of Canal Point are W. C.—that's it, Dr. W. C. Young. Soon after he came to Canal Point somebody printed his initials as W. J. or J. W. and the error has been repeated so many times that the matter ought to be made clear to the public before it goes any further.

L. W. Hays, by whom is meant "Slim" Hays over from Clewiston the other day. He is fishing for a living but the weather and the price have been bad, so he had time for a few days visiting. "Slim" ran on boats on the lake and canal in the days when water transportation was in vogue.

L. A. Maryes, station was the Florida East Coast agent at South Bay last season, has been assigned to the Lake Harbor station this season. He and his family arrived at Lake Harbor Sunday night. They count Saville, Fla., as home unless he is retained permanently at Lake Harbor.

William Franklin, the colored man who shipped the first car of beans from Lake Harbor this season, used to live at Canal Point. White people at Canal Point advised him not to try to farm on the west side of the lake, saying it was too cold over there, but he gets land at low enough rental, as compared with Canal Point, as to make him glad he made the change.

J. G. Watts, who lived at St. Petersburg during the real estate boom, is making his headquarters at Belle Glade this winter, looking after two town lot subdivisions here that his father, J. R. Watts, laid out three or four years ago. J. R. Watts is now living at Newberry, S. C.

INDIANTOWN

Oct. 17, 1932.

Indiantown played base ball Sunday with Olympia. The score was 12 to 6 in favor of Indiantown.

Work is proceeding steadily on state road No. 85. A goodly number of Indiantown men are at work. The oiling crew has not yet reached the county line.

A number of automobiles came out to Indiantown Friday to convey people to Stuart to the Sholtz speaking. Only a small number of persons attended, as most everyone was on a job and couldn't go.

Mrs. Bixler of West Palm Beach accompanied by her son came out to Indiantown on Thursday.

The road from Indiantown to Port Mayaca is in a terrible condition, so much it is almost impassable, nearly shaking a car to pieces. There has been no scraping done on the road for many months, why, no one knows. The people who have to use the road regularly have offered to pay for the work themselves if they can get a machine to do it.

There is a lot of travel over the road from other points also, and from the slow progress the new road is making it will be a long time before it will be ready for use. The state took over the old road last year.

This vicinity is having nice, seasonable light rains, instead of the heavy precipitation old timers feared for this season. There are pronounced cycles, or used to be, in Florida weather. After the '95 freeze for many years the winters were so cold that people in south Florida always banked their young orange trees and some even the older ones. But frosts did not come after February, while for the last couple of years we have had frost in March and one more earlier in the winter. The winters have grown steadily warmer for many years, till now we have practically no winter at all. Fifteen or 20 years ago there used to be a regular spell of misty, rainy weather on the lower east coast that was called the November storm, and good truck farmers did not start planting till after this storm, which meant good settled weather the rest of the season.

Indiantown cynic declares that most people will sell their bodies for a dollar and throw in their souls free.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and baby have recently moved into Indiantown and taken rooms in the apartment house near the school house. He is from Lakeland and is connected with the State Road Department.

TO SELL BANK ASSETS

Ernest Amos, state comptroller, seems to be closing out affairs of busted banks before his successor, Colonel J. M. Lee of Avon Park, can get into office and appoint liquidators. Mr. Amos is having Peter Tomasello, jr., liquidator, sell the remaining assets of the Bank of Moore Haven, sale being set for November 10.

400-POUND BLACK BEAR

When Marvin Hillard went to his barn on his farm in Collier county he found a black bear eating one of his best pigs. Dogs chased the bear to a tree where he was killed. Mr. Hillard has lived there 24 years and this is the first time he ever saw a bear.

Agency For Guano To Lake Shore Supply Co.

Farmers of Florida this year will receive the first shipments of South American bird guano from newly developed and rich guano deposits on Humboldt current islands, adjacent to those which have been worked for many years by Peruvian peons, according to Lake Shore Supply Company, representative in the upper Glades of Nitrate Agencies Company, importers of Genuine Humbolt guano.

T. W. Knight, secretary of the supply company, announced that Nitrate Agencies has established its own independent sources of guano on the bird islands of South America's Humboldt current where the world's best guano is produced. This insures continuous and adequate supply.

"Development of guano deposits on islands lying immediately south of the Peruvian group has enabled the company to take advantage of the new and rich fields and at the same time offer guano to Florida growers and farmers at the lowest price in history," Mr. Knight said.

"Everyone knows that this remarkable plant food which has been called 'nature's finest fertilizer' is produced by fish-eating guano birds which live in colonies of millions on their barren, rainless islands of the Humboldt current.

"The chill waters of the Humboldt current, arctic stream similar in character to the Gulf stream, have the peculiar effect of making the climate practically rainless—three or four rains in the past 50 years!

"As a result, the guano produced by these fish-eating birds is immediately baked by the broiling sun into a compact mass with all of its beneficial plant food elements tightly sealed in."

New stocks of Genuine Humboldt guano will arrive in Pahokee for the Lake Shore Supply Company within a short time, Mr. Knight said.

CARE WILL CHECK MANY LOSSES OF TRUCK IN TRANSIT

GAINESVILLE, Fla.—Most of the losses of Florida vegetables in transit are caused by slimy and watery soft rots, and can be prevented by careful handling and grading, according to Dr. G. F. Weber, plant pathologist at the Florida Experiment Station.

Many soft rot is caused by bacteria which attack hampers of beans, cabbage, lettuce, celery, peppers, etc., most of which are not pre-cooled and in transit for several days without ice. The rot usually begins where tissues are broken in harvesting and packing or at lesions caused by parasitic fungi.

Watery rot is caused by a fungus known to growers as the cause of lettuce drop, celery pink rot, nesting of beans, and watery rot of cabbage. It is a common field disease, and unless care is exercised it is easily included in the pack.

Washing vegetables is usually practiced, and adding a little disinfection to the water will give best results. Handle the products carefully to prevent bruises, use clean, smooth containers, and pre-cool and refrigerate all shipments that will be in transit over a day or two, was his advice.

PAHOKEE HARDWARE CO., Pahokee

When in the market for electrical appliances, merchandise or professional services, why not give preference to local enterprises? They pay local taxes, give employment, and build the community. Every dollar spent in the community benefits every other business and adds to the progress and prosperity of the community and state, which in the final analysis benefits you.

We can prosper individually only as we prosper collectively.

H. L. LAPP, Local Manager.

This Matter of Accommodation

A CONSERVATIVE Bank—and no other bank is worthy of the name—must be cautious in making loans. It cannot afford to take even the ordinary risk of the business man. The business man in extending credit is doing as with his own wares. But a bank is loaning the money of its depositors.

The SAFE bank—the conservative bank—the one that must be assured a loan will be promptly repaid and is properly secured is one that is a benefit to the entire community—absolutely safe for its depositors—wholly just to those who borrow.

FATHER OF C. A. BAILEY DIES AT AGE OF 98

C. A. Bailey, proprietor of Bailey's grocery and cafe, returned Monday from St. Cloud, where on Sunday he attended the funeral of his father, Weston Bailey, who died Saturday in Tampa, at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Sampson of 1204 Diana street. Mr. Bailey's father was a native of Bradford county, Pennsylvania, and served in Co. O of the 52d Pennsylvania infantry, which in 1862 was transported on the frigate Constitution from Alexandria, Va., to Newport News. He came to St. Cloud, site of a colony of Union veterans, in 1910, and lived there until 1926 when he went to Tampa to make his home with his daughter, Mrs. Sampson.

Until a short time before his death the elder Mr. Bailey was able to work about the house and in the garden, retaining command of his faculties to the last.

FOOT BALL

Lost On Muddy Field

Playing on a muddy field at Fort Pierce Friday, the Pahokee high school team was defeated, but not disgraced, the score of 38 to 0 indicating that the larger school population of Fort Pierce gave a field out of which to select more good players.

In its account of the game Friday the Fort Pierce Daily News-Tribune says: "The game was marred by many fumbles, the Waterwheel half being too slippery to handle with ease."

"Fort Pierce was credited with ten first downs to four for Pahokee. Thompson, at end for Pahokee, played a stellar game on defensive and did all the punting for his team. Considering the weather and condition of the playing field, his punting was very good and kept the locals from amassing a greater score.

"Not once during the entire game did Pahokee threaten the Fort Pierce goal line, although in the third quarter, with Tabb passing to Sapp and Thompson, they were able to gain some yardage, but there was never a sustained attack."

ARCADIA'S SCHEDULE

DeSoto high school beat Punta Gardo at Punta Gorda October 7 by a score of 26 to 13. The Arcadia team's other games are: October 21, Winter Haven; October 28, at Sarasota; November 4 at Palmetto; November 11 at Fort Myers; Thanksgiving, Wauchula at Arcadia.

WAUCHULA FOOT BALL

Wauchula high school played Fort Myers to a zero tie. On October 21 Wauchula will play Clearwater there. The October 28 game is with Mulberry at Wauchula.

100 IS OUR GOAL

Attendance at the meeting of the Young Adults Bible class at the Baptist church Sunday was good considering the inclement weather, but it is the desire of the promotors to increase the interest in attendance in this department to at least 100 members. Therefore you are urged to attend if you are not already associated with some other Sunday school organization in Pahokee and it is assured that your reception will be cordial. Appointments to a committee will be made Sunday.

ADAMS REBUYS BARBER SHOP

Lon Adams, who ran the barber shop in Canal Point nine years ago, has repurchased the shop from R. R. Wagner, who succeeded him in ownership four years ago. Lon's brother Morris, also a barber, is his partner and they are now operating the shop. During the summer the Adams brothers stayed at Alamo, Ga., their old home. Intending to sell the Canal Point shop, Mr. Wagner last July bought a shop at Pompano and he left yesterday to take possession of it. J. D. Morrison, who worked with Mr. Wagner, has gone to work in the old Tidwell shop at Pahokee.

High Levee Transfers Values From Ridge

Erection of the government levee on a 34-foot elevation may hurt value of lots on the ridge by shutting off view of the lake and obstructing the breeze but enough new value will be given elsewhere to even things up, it was agreed in a group of East Beach residents who discussed the subject.

When building sites on the ridge are no more valuable than sites back of the ridge in the muck, the value of the muck lots will rise in just the proportion the other value goes down, it was argued without dehiai.

If the high levee stops the northwesters from the lake from blowing so much sand from under ridge-site houses' foundations that was seen as a good thing.

CANAL POINT SCHOOL

Next week will find all school pupils getting ready for the first six weeks test of this term. The first period tests will be given throughout the school next week. All of the pupils seem to be hard at work this term thus far, striving to make good. The school has been running very satisfactorily so far.

The school grounds are beginning to look as though they are really going to get that long delayed attention. A crew of men have been busy this week weeding off the grass preparatory to leveling for a new sod. After this is done it is expected that the school will have a good lawn both in the rear of the building and in front. The Canal Point school grounds have always been in poor condition, therefore it is very gratifying to see that the grounds are getting that long waited for attention. This work is made possible by the loan that was secured for Palm Beach county from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Our boys filled our window boxes with rich muck. Our girls brought the flower plants, and now we feel sure that within a few weeks we will be having flowers blooming in our own room.

There were about twenty-five present including the chaperones, who were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cox, Mesdames Stars and Everett and Miss Holmes.

The seventh and eighth grade girls are selling homemade candy this week. They hope to buy a basketball with the money which they make.

AT THE THEATRE

"Devil and the Deep," Tallulah Bankhead's new starring vehicle, which opens at the Prince Theatre Sunday, serves two outstanding purposes: It gives the glamorous star a dramatic story worthy of her talents, and it introduces, in Charles Laughton, a new character actor who looks like the first genuine successor to Lon Chaney.

Miss Bankhead's Pauline Sturm is far and away the best characterization the star has contributed to pictures. As the tortured wife of the half-mad submarine commander, she gives a sustained performance of great depth and richness, and rises to extraordinary heights in the exciting climax scene in which she holds at bay the crew of a sinking submarine and tries to convince them of her husband's madness. Her voice has never recorded so well; nor has she ever been photographed to better advantage.

For his performance as the jealousy-crazed Sturm, Charles Laughton's name will go down in picture history. He draws a half-pathetic portrait of the depraved submarine commander, the soul of kindness and geniality in public but a raging, jealous fiend as soon as he and his wife are alone. It is a character that might so easily have been ruined by overacting, if the role had been placed in less competent hands. Laughton's characterization is devastating in its credibility.

The story, which takes place in a north African port where Sturm's submarine is stationed, is based on the commander's insane jealousy of his young wife. Up to the time of the story's opening, Pauline has never given him a basis for the crazy suspicions, and he, himself, has been responsible for most of the stories about her that have been circulated among the English colony in the port city. But one night, terrorized by her husband's threats to kill her, Pauline runs out into the streets of the city and is caught in a mob of natives who are celebrating a religious festival. She is rescued from the press of the mob by a young English stranger, and riding out into the desert with him, learns to love him. He turns out to be the lieutenant on her husband's ship. As soon as Sturm realizes that his suspicons are justified, he seeks an active revenge. With Pauline, her lover and himself aboard, he gives orders for the submarine to sail, and plans to wreck the ship and cut off all means of escape for all of them.

The final scenes aboard the submarine are packed with swift action and melodrama, and the film moves quickly to a dramatic denouement.

Gary Cooper gives an excellent performance in the role of Lieutenant Tunsig, and the supporting cast is more than adequate.

More than 15 years ago Donald S. Hinckley of Chicago bought a tract of land in the South Bay district and has been paying taxes on it ever since and hoping he could do something profitable with it some day. Mr. Hinckley is chief clerk in the office of the secretary of police of Chicago. He came at this time of year because it is the period in which his vacation was assigned.

Bones of a mamoth animal dug up where the government levee is being erected between Moore Haven and Clewiston, have been sent to the state geologic survey at Tallahassee by Fred A. Flanders, chief inspector on the levee job.

Every dwelling house in Moore Haven that is habitable is occupied, says the Glades County Democrat, and yards have been cleaned and repairs made on practically every house in town. Houses that are not habitable are being torn down by the city commissioner, removing "eyesores."

The fronts of the Parkinson building and the Leggett building have been painted and the woodwork renewed, and the Davis & Davis grocery store has added an electric refrigerator.

A story hour for children from 4 to 7 years is to be conducted by the Moore Haven Womans club each Saturday beginning the 22d. Mrs. Pete Wilson will have charge and the children will meet at the club's house.

The State Live Stock Sanitary Board has been asked by the Glades county commissioners to give some of the inspecting and guarding jobs to local men and to put men on alternate two weeks shifts.

NITRATE AGENCIES
ANNOUNCES
GENUINE HUMBOLDT GUANO
THIS year, Nitrate Agencies Company brings you the same high-grade South American Bird Guano . . . Nature's Finest Fertilizer . . . as in the past. An old friend with a new middle name. Genuine Humboldt Guano. ¶ For 70 years, the Nitrate Agencies Company and its affiliates have imported into the United States tremendous quantities of a Bird Guano produced on the small, rainless islands lying in the Humboldt Current, which parallels for thousands of miles, the Pacific Coast of South America. ¶ Because this Bird Guano had definite characteristics which readily distinguished it as being different from any guano produced outside of the Humboldt Current, and came from a group of islands directly off the coast of Peru, it has been known as Peruvian Guano. ¶ But during recent years the annual production of Bird Guano on the islands lying south of the Peruvian group has greatly increased, providing a new source of supply of the same material, the same bad-smelling, good-for-crops Guano . . . fish converted into Nature's Finest Fertilizer by the same fish-eating Guano Birds of the Humboldt Current. ¶ In keeping with its long established policy of making this wonderful, natural organic fertilizer available to Florida growers at lower prices each year, Nitrate Agencies has arranged to obtain its supply from this new source. Our own inspectors on these islands report it the finest we have ever offered . . . and at the lowest price in history.
